

MILTON S. FOX TO LECTURE AT ART MUSEUM

Former Clevelander Milton S. Fox returns to Cleveland this week-end to present two lectures at The Cleveland Museum of Art. Fox is Editor and Associate Publisher of the New York firm of Harry N. Abrams, Inc., publisher of the popular "Art Treasures of the World" series as well as numerous other art books.

His first lecture, entitled FROM RUBENS TO REMOIR, will be given on Friday December 7 at 8:15 p.m. in connection with the current Venetian painting show at the Museum. On Sunday December 9 at 3:45 p.m. Fox will discuss the Fairmount Temple Exhibition. Both talks will be illustrated with color slides.

Fox studied at The Cleveland School of Art, Julian Academy, Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris and Western Reserve University. For many years he was a member of the Art Museum's education staff. He exhibited annually from 1927 to 1935 in the Museum's May Show, winning frequent awards for his work.

Both lectures are open free to the public.

MILTON S. FOX, New York

Friday, December 7 - "From Rubens to Renoir"

Sunday, December 9 - "Fairmount Temple Exhibition"

Editor and Associate Publisher
Harry N. Abrams, Inc.
10 East Forty-Fourth Street
New York 17, N. Y.

Member of the Educational Staff of the Museum, late 30's and early 40's

Dr. Munro and Mr. Francis could give further information.

Perhaps Who's Who also.

See: Who's Who in American Art